

MR. MEAD MEMORIAL CHAPEL IS DEDICATED

In Governor Dilliers Address as He Presents Keys of New Building.

GRAND GRANDSON HONORARY DELEGATE TO BALTIMORE

Addressed in the Chapel

The speaker, Governor Dilliers, addressed the assembly in the new building, which was dedicated as the Mead Memorial Chapel.

The speaker, Governor Dilliers, addressed the assembly in the new building, which was dedicated as the Mead Memorial Chapel.

The speaker, Governor Dilliers, addressed the assembly in the new building, which was dedicated as the Mead Memorial Chapel.

The speaker, Governor Dilliers, addressed the assembly in the new building, which was dedicated as the Mead Memorial Chapel.

The speaker, Governor Dilliers, addressed the assembly in the new building, which was dedicated as the Mead Memorial Chapel.

The speaker, Governor Dilliers, addressed the assembly in the new building, which was dedicated as the Mead Memorial Chapel.

The speaker, Governor Dilliers, addressed the assembly in the new building, which was dedicated as the Mead Memorial Chapel.

The speaker, Governor Dilliers, addressed the assembly in the new building, which was dedicated as the Mead Memorial Chapel.

It Pa

More new patron of June is almost as in this Progressive Store

It is proof that q point of arguments.

Summer V WHICH PRINTED TOWELS—Is a

Beautiful Taff A great display of the latest and

Housekeeping NEW FURNISH TOWELS—Is a

NEW SPREADS—Is a great display of the latest and

NEW STRIPED GLASS TOWELS—Is a

Rutland's Largest and

It is proof that q point of arguments.

MIDDLEBURY Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Foster

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Foster

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Foster

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Foster

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Foster

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Foster

MIDDLEBURY, VERMONT, FRIDAY, JUNE 23, 1916.

COMMENCEMENT

College Closes 116th Year with Notable Gathering—Enthusiasm Over New Buildings.

The opening of the large and beautiful new buildings and the successful commencement of the 116th year in the history of Middlebury College. The town was filled with a general rejoicing in the celebration of the 116th anniversary of the college's founding. The college buildings were a magnificent addition to the town, and the new buildings were a source of pride to the community. The commencement exercises were held in the new auditorium, and the graduates were presented with diplomas. The college has a long and distinguished history, and the new buildings are a testament to its growth and progress. The town is proud to have such a fine institution of learning, and the graduates are a source of honor to the community. The commencement exercises were a grand affair, and the graduates were met with a warm welcome. The college has a bright future, and the new buildings are a sign of its continued success. The town is proud to have such a fine institution of learning, and the graduates are a source of honor to the community. The commencement exercises were a grand affair, and the graduates were met with a warm welcome. The college has a bright future, and the new buildings are a sign of its continued success.

JOHN C. ALLEN

President Allen held the first of the exercises in the new auditorium. He spoke of the college's history and the importance of the new buildings. He said that the college has a long and distinguished history, and the new buildings are a testament to its growth and progress. He said that the college has a bright future, and the new buildings are a sign of its continued success. He said that the town is proud to have such a fine institution of learning, and the graduates are a source of honor to the community. He said that the commencement exercises were a grand affair, and the graduates were met with a warm welcome. He said that the college has a bright future, and the new buildings are a sign of its continued success.

2

